Description:

A good example of the rare 1842 edition of Mitchell's map of Texas.

The first edition of this map, issued in 1835, is one of the earliest obtainable maps of Texas. Streeter notes editions of the map between 1835 and 1845. The map shows the various land grants, towns, roads, and settlements.

Detailed Condition:

The present example has signs of oxidation in the green areas and several repaired tears and folds splits. The map has been laid down on archival backing paper, de-acidified and re-colored. In all, a good example, very suitable for display.
