Description:

Fine example of John Pinkerton's finely detailed map of Southern Mexico, the Yucatan and Guatemala, published in 1811.

The map provides a fine depiction of the heart of Mexico, just months after the Grito de Dolores, on September 16, 1810, and signified the historical commencement of Mexico's decade long fight for independence from Spain.

The topographical detail in Mexico is among the best to appear in a British Atlas. Pinkerton's now rare elephant folio atlas is one of the best engraved works of the period. While lesser known than the more common atlases by Cary & Thomson, it is a superior work, especially in the detail of the maps.
