Description:

Detailed sea chart of the Malaya Peninsula and the northeast coast of Sumatra, featuring Singapore and the surrounding area.

The chart was published by the British Admiralty first in 1898, and then as a new edition in 1922. This example has been updated to 1929.

The chart credits "the latest British and Foreign government surveys" for the information shown.

Like many other Admiralty charts of the time, this one includes much detail of the interior, not just navigational and bathymetric information.

The map goes as far north as Penang.

The map is rare on the market; we find a single example of the 1898 edition for sale for $2,500 in the Netherlands.

Detailed Condition:

A few light spots of staining.
