Description:

Fine example of Jansson's new map of Southeast Asia and the Philippines, which appeared in his Atlas Minor, first issued in 1628.

Jansson has revised and significantly improved this regional map, which had been previously issued by Hondius in 1607, employing a new copper plate and reflecting the more advanced cartographic knowledge resulting from the Dutch exploration and trading in the region in the first quarter of the 17th century. While the differences are at first quite subtle, when viewed in totality, the changes are quite remarkable for such a short period.
