Mammoth eight-sheet lithographed wall map of Switzerland issued by Heinrich Keller in Zurich in circa 1870.

The map shows the topography of the mountainous nation in all its glory with meticulous hachuring building up the many peaks and valleys of the Alps.

Hand-coloring differentiates the cantons of Switzerland per the key in the upper-right corner.

True to its Swiss heritage, the map is German-French-Italian trilingual.

The map was lithographed by R. Leuzinger in Bern.

The date is estimated based on the range seen in several entries in OCLC.

Certainly one of the best wall maps of Switzerland from the 19th century.
