Description:

Scarce map of the Ottoman Empire, extending from the Eastern Mediterranean to Persia and the Caspian Sea

The map includes a fine depiction of a number of the early trade caravan routes through Greece and Asia Minor toward India, passing below the Caspian Sea and then extending into Persia.

A highly detailed map of the region, at a time when it was dominated by the Ottoman Empire. The Gulf is called "Golfe de Balsera autrement Mer el-Catif et autrefois Gold de Perse, with a massive Island of "Baharem" (Bahrain).

Several states of the map exist, including this state and states dated 1677 and 1686. The present example is undated.

Detailed Condition:

Minor soiling and spotting, mostly to the blank margins.
