Description:

The First Separately Published Atlas Map of Idaho Territory

Rare 1878 edition this important early map of Idaho Territory, published by George Cram in Chicago.

Idaho has only 10 counties, although the boundaries are very unusual. Pre-dates the formation of Washington County, Cassia County and Bear Lake County (all formed in February 1879) and showing the now extinct Alturas County.

Some early township surveys are shown in the west around Palous Bridged and Coeur D'Alene, Lewiston and the Boise areas.

Cram's map of Idaho Territory is the earliest separately published map of Idaho, having been issued separately beginning in 1875 and in the rare pre-1880 editions of Cram's atlas.
