Nice old color example of this sea chart from De Wit's Orbis Maritimus ofte Zee Atlas.

The map covers the Pacific Coast from Xalisco, Mexico to Puerta Bairres and Rio Cachapoal in Chile, covering over two thirds of the Chilean Coast. In the Caribbean, all of the Yucatan and parts of Cuba and Hispaniola are shown, along with all of Jamaica and the Caymans. Nice detail throughout Central America. Columbia is shown in its entirety, along with a small piece of Venezuela. Includes well over 100 place names in classic Portolano style, along with gorgeous allegorical cartouche, 8 sailing ships and two compass roses.

Nice example of this marvelous sea chart, later copied in the 18th Century by Renard (1715) and Ottens (1745).
