(Hans Staden - How The Tuppin Ikins led by Jeppipo Wasu came with 25 canoes to attack the Indian Village where Staden was held captive)

Hans Staden (c. 1525 – c. 1576) was a German soldier and explorer who voyaged to South America in the middle of the sixteenth century, where he was captured by the Tupinambá people of Brazil. He managed to survive and return safe to Europe. In his widely read account describing his travel and captivity, he claimed that the native people that held him captive practiced cannibalism.
