Description:

Nice example of the map of the Southwestern United States, from the Atlas to Accompany To Official Records of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies, 1861-1865.

Issued in parts, the Atlas of the Union & Confederate Armies compiled hundreds of battle field and battle theater maps made during the Civil War and presented them for the first time in a single work. Most of the original maps are unobtainable to collectors, making this the only means for acquiring the maps.

This map extends from Colorado to Nebraska and Indian Territory to New Mexico, with excellent detail, as they existed during the civil war, highlighting war related routes, roads, and information.
