Description:

Nice example of the Janssonius edition of Barentsz sea chart, showing the coastline of Liguria, from San Remo in Italy to Piombino, and including the north part of Corsica, which appeared in Jansson's Descriptio Maris Mediterranei, per tabula hydrographics & geographicas . . ., published in Amsterdam in 1654.

The map is a later re-issue of Barentsz map, with Jansson having completely changed the title and reworked the decorative embellishments, removing many of the great images originally added by Barentsz.
