Description:

A beautiful map of Northeastern Canada, including Nova Scotia, Labrador and Newfoundland, published by Lotter in Augsburg.

The map's vertical format elongates the geography and distorts the true shape of Newfoundland. The St. Lawrence River runs nearly north-south.

The map is very detailed, especially along the coastlines and rivers. Many place names, both European and Indian.

At bottom right is a scene with several sailing ships. At top left is a huge decorative title cartouche featuring allegorical figures, Indian chiefs, explorers, mapmakers, a fleet of ships, fishermen and wildlife.
