Description:

Rare early railroad map of Nebraska, based upon Cram's first work in 1875.

Includes excellent detail showing counties, township surveys, towns, railroad lines, and other early details.

George Cram would become one of the most prolific atlas publishers of the last 19th and early 20th Centuries. However, his earliest maps, issued in the late 1860s, were marvelous separately issued railroad maps. His success led to the publication of several editions of his now impossibly rare Standard American Atlas in 1875 and 1879, which included a number of Cram's rare separately issued railroad maps.

We have seen only complete example of these two atlases on the market in the past 12 years.

Detailed Condition:

Archivally lined with a thin layer of tissue in select areas of the verso. Very minor tear in upper left-hand corner.
