Description:

Fair example of Johnson's map of the Vicinity of Richmond, colored by counties. Includes the line of advance and retreat of the Union Army, several battles and other details. Shows towns, roads, rivers, lakes, bays, islands, soundings, bays, railroads, court houses and other details. The map was apparently produced during the early part of the War and included in Johnson's Atlases for the next several years, in response to the high level of interest in the South's Rebellion. Lots of small tears on edges, which have been repaired and some old tape (visible). Minor loss of neatline.
