Description:

Rare outline color example of this important map of the United States, from the second folio atlas printed in America and the first in New York. Mississipp Territory is drawn in and named in manuscript, as are Indian and Ohio. Excellent detail in Jefferson's Northwest Territory. Many Indian Tribes noted. The various lands given in Illinois east of the Mississippi River to the veterans of the American Revolution are named, including Illinois Company, New Jersey Company, and Wabash Company. In Ohio, the Seven Ranges and Army Lands are noted. Tennessee is Tennessee Government. A reference to the 10 new states established by Jefferson in 1784 is included, but the states are not delineated with borders. A bit of soiling, but a nice example of this scarce map.
