Description:

Extremely rare Christopher Browne map of Barbaria, with a larger regional map extending from the North African and Spanish Coast to the Nile and Asia Minor, centered on Sicily and Malta. The map is extremely rare. Glorious full original color example (one of the most beautifully examples of original color we have ever seen on an 17th Century English Map), which has been backed with archival paper early in the 20th Century (easily removed). Minor loss at fold (top and bottom) and minor loss near the centerfold, but generally a well preserved example of this rare 17th Century English map.
