A decorative map and series of views of London at the beginning of the 18th Century.

The map extends to London's northern environs, and includes decorative views of the Royal Palaces - Windsor, Hampton Court, Kensington, the King's Hospital in Chelsea and the King's Hospital in Greenwich.

Homann bases these views on larger individual plates by Johannes Kip that had been published in his book of British views. The map itself extends from Windsor in the west to Dagenham in the east, and from Norwood in the south to South Mimms in the north.
