Description:

Fine example of this rare English Sea Chart of Southeast Asia, the Philippines and contiguous regions, from the first edition of Herbert's A New Directory for the East Indies.

Prepared in the style of a Portolan Sea Chart, Herbert's chart covers the coasts of India, Malaysia, Philippines and the Indonesian archipelago. The top of Australia is shown as the Southern Land.

The lack of knowledge in the region is evidenced by the many incomplete southern and western coastlines in New Guinea and the islands to the south.

The map would appear to be very rare. The last appearance in AMPR was Jonathan Potter catalog 9 (1995).
