Description:

Highly detailed map of Pinellas County, Florida, published by F.B. Dolph, promoting the local real estate market.

The map shows township surveys, subdivisions roads, railroads, lakes, rivers, islands, etc, including an early look at the growing town of St. Petersburg. The map includes a promotional tract, highlighting the fine new roads throughout the county. Some annotations in red, likely showing land purchases by an early owner.

Pinellas County was formed in 1911, carving out the western portion of Hillsborough County.
