Description:

Extremely rare early sea chart of the western Caribbean coast of Colombia by Arent Roggeveen.

The map shows the coast from just west of Cartagena to the Gulf of Darien, with north at the bottom. In the upper left corner is an inset chart of the Gulf of Darien.

One of the most interesting features of the map is the depiction of Forta Granda, which was abandoned by the Dutch shortly after this chart was published. Nombre de Dios, Porta Bella and Fort de la Mare are also shown.
