Description:

Rare (unrecorded) map of the United States and the Caribbean, one of the earliest maps to use the name "Etats Unis" (United States).

While it is not possible to date the map based upon the cartographic information shown, the failure to name Maine, Vermont, Ohio or the Northwest Territory and the failure to make a definitive delineation of the boundaries of the United States strongly points to a date around 1780, prior to the Treaty of Peace which settled the American Revolution.

This is the first time we have seen this map.
