Description:

Exceptional old color example of Gerard Van Keulen's rare sea chart of the strait separating the coastlines of northern Denmark and southern Sweden.

The chart is oriented with east at the top and covers the region centered on Copenhagen, extending to Malmo, Trelleborg and Stor Heddinge in the south and Helsingborg, Helsingor, Gillelejem, Molle and Angleholm in the north.

The map includes soundings, rhumblines and a number of compass roses. The large inset shows the areas around Copenhagen and Amager Island.

The inset view shows the approach into the sound from the north and is entitled Gesigt van de Sont na Binnen in te sien als men voort' Casteel Croonenburgh Leght. Cronenburg, Helsinguber and Elsinburg are shown in the foreground, with Copenhagen, Malmoe and Landskroon in the distance.

Fantastic original color and a fine dark impression.
