Description:

Extremely detailed chart of the North Sea by one of the United Kingdom's greatest 19th-century chart makers.

East is oriented at the top, with the image bounded roughly by Jutland at the top, Calais at the right, Inverness at the bottom, and Trondheim Fjord at the left. The map includes nine inset charts, including: Berge; Arendal Inlet; Christiansand; Approaches to Christiansund; Farn Islands; Bridlington Bay; and Hasborough.

Perhaps the most charming features of the map are the illustrations of lighthouses and navigational aids scattered along the coasts.

Detailed Condition:

Linen-backed blueback. Small loss of image at top edge, just proceeding past the neatline. Lower edge with a few handling creases.
