Description:

A striking 1688 decorative map of England and Wales by Frederick De Wit, meticulously divided into counties and featuring a captivating cartouche with the coat of arms of England, surrounded by sea fairies and dolphins.

This beautifully crafted map, published in Amsterdam, offers a detailed representation of England and Wales during the late 17th century. Each county is carefully outlined and colored, providing a clear and accurate visualization of the region. The map's attention to detail and precision makes it a valuable resource for understanding the geography and administrative divisions of the time.
