Description:

John Farmer's Sectional Map of Michigan -- Re-issued without imprint by Colton.

Fine example of GW & CB Colton's updated map of Michigan, which had first been issued in 1865 (see Rumsey copy below) and revised periodically until 1872.

The present example, dated 1873, would appear to be the first edition of the map which did not include Farmer's name. By 1873, Farmer maps were again being published by Farmer's heirs in Detroit.

As noted by Rumsey:

The [1865 first] issue is unrecorded in Karpinski, who lists editions of 1868, 1870, 1871, and 1872. The base map is the same as the "Map of the Southern Part of Michigan" with the insets changed to a single inset map showing all of Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. There is no copyright date. Many changes from the 1856 issue of the former title.
