

Barry Lawrence Ruderman
Antique Maps Inc.

7407 La Jolla Boulevard
La Jolla, CA 92037

www.raremaps.com

(858) 551-8500
blr@raremaps.com

---

A New Chart of the Atlantic or Western Ocean Improved by W. Heather. A New Edition
Drawn Revised and Corrected by J.W. Norie Hydrographer &c. 1828

Stock#: 56009
Map Maker: Heather / Norie
Date: 1828
Place: London
Color: Uncolored
Condition: VG
Size: 49 x 36 inches
Price: SOLD

Description:

Nice example of William Heather's scarce chart of the Atlantic Ocean, offered here in a "New Edition" by John W. Norie and dated 1828.

One of the best large format charts of the Atlantic published in the first half of the 19th Century, Heather's chart tracks the Gulf Stream and prevailing currents between the Caribbean and Europe, as known at the beginning of the 19th Century.

Includes the tracks of a journey from New York, across the Atlantic below the Equator and South America and/or the West Coast of Africa, then to The Cape Verde Islands.

The map shows some signs of use but is in remarkably good condition for a working sea chart.

Detailed Condition:

Bluebacked chart, printed on two sheets.