Description:

Rare map of Asuncion de Guanabacoa (unknown to Cueto), on the opposite side of the port of Havana, published by Rafael Rodriguez in Havana in 1856.

Cueto notes that "in addition to drafting numerous manuscripts plans and having the maps in the Planos de Bolsillo attributed to him by the Havana National Library, Cariés Casadeval at least" 3 other separately published maps.

The entry for the map in the University of Florida collection notes;

There are other impressions of this map with slight differences in the engravings.

It shows the views and plants of charitable buildings, heraldic shields and lines of the Matanzas railway with the branch that leads to Guanabacoa.
