worden

The image provides a general view of the area between Charleroi and Mariemont, with the two fortified towns illustrated in the upper corners.

The Battle of Seneffe was fought on August 11, 1674 between a French army commanded by Louis II de Bourbon, Prince de Condé and a combined Dutch-Imperial-Spanish army led by William of Orange. The outcome of the battle was a French tactical victory that prevented Spanish and Dutch forces from entering France, with both sides taking heavy casualties.
