Description:

Siege and Surrender of Milan October 1733 to January 1734

Detailed map of the area around Milan, showing the entrenchments of the French soldiers around the Chateau of Milan in October 1733.

The map shows Milan at the time it was occupied by Charles Emmanuel III. of Savoy, acting as the ally of France and Spain. Charles Emmanuel entered Milan on 14th December, 1733, to obtain possession of the Castello after a fourteen days' siege. Then, for the first time since the death of Francesco Sforza, Milan was controlled by an Italian.

Milan remained in Italian hands until 1736, when it was transferred back to Austrian rule.
