Description:

This is the second edition of Henry Seile's map of America, first published in 1652.

The map has been re-engraved by Robert Vaughan at the direction of Seile's widow Anaë, making it the earliest map to show California as an Island published by a woman. The map is very similar to the earlier map by Henry, although the nomenclature of the Delaware River, Carolina and several places on the west coast have been changes. A marvelous early American map.
