Description:

The Most Important Map of Alsace of the 16th Century

Important early map of the Alsace Region, by Daniel Speckle in Strassburg in 1576. Originally commissioned by the Archduke Ferdinand in 1573, it is widely considered the most important map of the region at the time.

The map follows the course of the Rhein River from Basil to the area just south of Phillipsburg and centered on Strasbourg.

The plates for the map survived until about 1870 in the Strasbourg Stadtbibliothek.

Specklin's map is the source map for Ortelius' Argentoratensis Agri Descriptio.
