Description:

Rare Sea Chart of the Eastern Atlantic, extending from the Amsterdam and the British Isles in the North to Gambia in the South, centered on the Straits of Gibraltar and the Azores. Classic example of an early 18th Century Dutch Sea Chart, with excellent coastal details, rhumb lines, 2 compass roses, 3 decorative cartouches and a cherub carrying a coat of arms above the Mediterranean, 2 sailing ships and a Sea Monster. Lower margin extended, with minor restorations at the lower neatline, else an excellent example of this scarce map. East is oriented at the top of the map. No appearances in dealer catalogues listed by Jolly in the past 20 years.
