Description:

The Kingdom of Naples at the end of the 16th-Century

Attractive antique map of the Kingdom of Naples with its coastal islands, major cities, mountains, and rivers.

This work is from the so-called Cologne School of mapmaking, the members of which made a concerted, though largely unsuccessful, attempt to supplant Antwerp (and to a lesser extent Amsterdam) as a mapmaking hub in the 1590s and first decades of the 17th century. Cologne's role as a mapmaking center was boosted by Dutch and Flemish refugees fleeing persecution and war, just as Amsterdam was boosted by those leaving Spanish-controlled Antwerp after 1588.

Rarity

Metellus's maps are very rare on the market. This is the first time we have handled this map. We find no other examples in OldMaps nor in RBH.
