Description:

A Stunning View of 16th Century Vienna

A dramatic woodcut panoramic plan of Vienna from Sebastian Munster's "Cosmographia ...".

The map is drawn from the work of Wolfgang Lazius. Lazius, a physician, historian and cartographer, supplied this view of his home city as viewed from the north.

The date "1548" and initials "HRMD" appearing at the lower center and "HH" to the right identify the woodcutters as Hans Rudolph Manuel Deutsch and Heinrich Holzmüller. It seems likely that one probably executed the topography, the other the lettering and scrollwork, prominently displayed in the banner extending the full length of the image.
