Description:

A nice example of the 1857 Western Tourist or Emigrant's Guide...published in New York by J.H. Colton.

The map is colored by counties and has exceptional detail, including a small vignette on the Mississippi.

In the present example, the westernmost part of Minnesota Territory is still unorganized into counties. Minnesota would not become a state until May 11, 1858.

One of the best guide maps of the period, with extensive Census information.
