Description:

Illinois Following the Black Hawk Wars of 1832

Rare map of Illinois, published by Anthony Finley in 1834.

The map is hand colored by county, with a number of the Northern Counties still not settled.

At the bottom left, a large inset "Map of the Lead Mine Region, east of the Mississippi River" is shown, focused on Joe Daviess (Joe Davies) County and the southwestern corner of Michigan Territory (Iowa County, Michigan), which would become a part of Wisconsin Territory on July 3, 1836. The details in the inset are exceptional, focused on the Diggings and Furnaces which were then booming in the region.
