Description:

A detailed antique road map of France overlain with the route of the 1956 Tour de France.

This map was printed by the French sports retailer Unis-Sport and shows an advertisement for Lambretta Mopeds.

The 1956 Tour de France was the 43rd edition of the Tour de France. The race took place from June 30 to July 22, 1956, and covered a distance of 4,480 kilometers (2,780 miles) over 21 stages. The overall winner of the 1956 Tour de France was Roger Walkowiak of France, who was riding for the Mercier-BP-Hutchinson team. Walkowiak won the race by over 19 minutes, becoming the first French rider to win the Tour de France since the war. He also won the points classification, as well as two stages: Stage 3, a flat stage from Brussels to Dunkirk, and Stage 11, a mountain stage from Luchon to Pau.

The King of the Mountains classification was won by Federico Bahamontes of Spain, who dominated the mountain stages with a total of six stage wins. The sprints classification was won by Rik Van Looy of
