Description:

Scarce map of North America, published shortly prior to Texan Independence.

The map shows a 54-40 or fight boundary in the Pacific Northwest, showing the American claims extending far north of its final border as agreed between the US and Britain a decade later.

Upper California is crossed with a number of mythical rivers, running from Lake Timpanagos to Lake Teguayo to the Pacific Ocean via the Rio los Mongos, S. Sacramento, and several unnamed rivers.

The map illustrates a massive Oregon Territory, showing the hydrography largely based on Lewis & Clark. A number of Native American Tribes are located.

Alaska is Russian America.
