Fascinating regional map showing part of Andalusia and Granada and the northern tip of Morocco. The map extends north to the Guadalquivir River and the Bay of Cadis and east to include Malaga. Centered on Gibraltar and Algezira. On the Moroccan Coastline, the cities of Tangiers, Ceuta, and Tetuan appear and the map extends east to Cassasa. Wonderful detail of the interior mountains and rivers, with roads shown between cities. Three large sailing ships, compass rose and cartouche. A nice example of this scarce map, which last appeared in a dealer catalogue in 1986.
