Description:

An unusual late example of the Santini/Remondini map of the English Heptarchy, with a remarkably late date of 1803 (Remondini editions normally appearing in the 1780s and 1790s). An excellent large format map of England and Wales, divided by Heptrachies and showing towns, rivers, lakes, roads and many other details. Based upon De Vaugondy's map first issued in the early 1750s. Minor staining at the lower fold, just entering the printed image, else a nice example in full color.
